Until now, the Board of Directors was comprised of 10 directors (including 2 independent outside directors), but the structure of the Board of Directors was revised with the aim of clarifying responsibilities concerning the supervision of management and task execution, and as of the day this report was submitted, the Board of Directors is comprised of 6 directors (including 2 independent outside directors). Our company stipulates that the Board of Directors will see to the appropriate fulfillment of the following responsibilities.

Regarding proposals on financial affairs, the approval for account settlement and budgets, as well as the acquisition and disposal of treasury stocks were voted on.

Further, regarding earnings forecasts, the state of business progress and the state of individual developmental matters, task execution of each director was supervised by individually discussing and deliberating on 84 different reported matters. These reported matters included reports and discussion regarding general risks related to our company and business, and risk analysis and countermeasures for this term following the spread of COVID-19 were advised.

For both resolutions and reported matters, mainly independent outside directors requested details explanations from directors in charge, and there was aggressive exchange of opinions on matters of discussion.

Our company established and operates management meetings with the aim of stimulating and enhancing debate during the Board of Directors' meetings.

In management meetings, which are attended by all directors, executive officers and auditors, supplementary information on the backgrounds of matters to be brought up at the Board of Directors' meeting as well as information necessary to understand the points of discussion are explained by executive officers, the head of each department, the business supervisor and other related personnel within our company. Further, reports on the state of progress and related risks concerning research and development projects already in progress and individual development projects, technical knowledge and information related to our company's products and services are explained, which helps the directors and auditors deepen their understandings on such subjects. As they are a form of coordination of information meant to raise the quality of discussion at the Board of Directors' meetings, the management meeting does not have any decision-making authority and no decisions are made.

In FY 6/2020, management meetings were held a total of 11 times with 24 topics of discussion, and the duration of each meeting was about one hour. The major topics of discussion were reports on matters of research and development such as development of the next-generation versions of our company's products, and plans for new business and their state of progress, along with reports on the state of ongoing individual development projects, taking up 20 topics of discussion. In addition, overseas travel for the purposes of new business and new product development were reported and ideas were exchanged.

Some topics of discussion at the management meetings for FY 6/2020 are later introduced at the Board of Directors' meetings and voted on after sufficient and efficient discussion.
